

As a cable subscriber, I found I had to buy a tier of over 100 channels to get just one particular one that I wanted. I would very much appreciate being offered an a la carte option. Any such rule should continue to allow the companies to also offer the broad packages for those who want such deals.